

New Orleans, Louisiana: Hurricane Katrina Aftermath

This time series poster of New Orleans, Louisiana includes satellite images of pre-hurricane and post-hurricane views. The image on the left shows New Orleans and the surrounding area on April 24th, 2005 a few months before the hurricane struck the area. The middle image shows New Orleans on the morning of August 30th, 2005, just one day after Katrina made landfall. Relief efforts are evident on September 7, 2005 within the right image, which reveals the drained area in the western part of New Orleans.

Map of New Orleans region, showing image boundaries and approximate path of Hurricane Katrina

Landsat 7 satellite data acquired 4/24/2005

Landsat 7 satellite data acquired 8/30/2005

Landsat 5 satellite data acquired 9/07/2005